facts and do what is best for the country. If they do this you will get the assistance you are seeking.

The President of the Church, George Albert Smith and others were greatly pleased with the opportunity of seeing you though but for a few moments.

The enclosed clipping will tell you something of our good friend, Wilson McCarthy, who is retiring from the R. F. C. Commission, as I understand it, because the duties of the Commission have been taken over largely by the N. R. A. The retirement of Wilson McCarthy means the loss of a splendid ffriend in Washington to everything of interest in the West.

I have talked with Mr. D. D. Moffat, vice-president and general manager of the Utah Copper Co. He regrets greatly that he did not get in touch with you yesterday.

We are all pleased with the fine report published in our morning paper as a result of your interview yesterday. A clipping is being sent to you herewith.

If there is anything more that I can do at any time to help this worthy cause, please let me have the pleasure of doing it.

Faithfully your friend,

Richard R. Lyman
